SECTION FIVE

2014 GOALS

AND

ACHIEVEMENTS
GOALS AND ACHIEVEMENTS FOR 2014

Goal: Continue our two year Pursuit of New Jersey State Association of Chiefs of Police accreditation for the Chatham Borough Police Department through the New Jersey State Association of Chiefs of Police Law Enforcement Accreditation Program.

Achievement: During 2014, we continued to update our policies and procedures to coincide with the performance standards established under the New Jersey State Association of Chiefs of Police Law Enforcement Accreditation Program. We continued to work toward proving our compliance with the standards by creating proof files in coordination with our program manager from the Rodgers Group, LLC. for review by the assessors during our anticipated spring of 2015 on-site assessment.

Goal: Develop an in-house supervisory training program for Sergeants and O.I.C.’s.

Achievement: To date, this goal has not been completed. As a result of the many organizational challenges during 2014, we were unable to dedicate the attention and time necessary to develop this program in its entirety. During 2014, we continued to utilize outside training opportunities as needed; however, we do plan to continue to work toward this goal in 2015.

Goal: Develop and train (2) new O.I.C’s (Officer in Charge) who will be appointed to replace the officers who will be assigned to Traffic Safety and Community Services positions.

Achievement: This goal has been successfully met. Two officers have been selected, appointed and trained to act in the capacity of Officer in Charge in the absence of a patrol sergeant.

Goal: Improve and enhance parking enforcement within the Borough

Achievement: During 2014, the parking enforcement unit worked closely with the Long Range Traffic and Pedestrian Safety Planning Committee to enhance parking throughout the Borough of Chatham. Some of the initiatives that were undertaken include, but are not limited to the following: enhancing train station parking through the use of Park Mobile online pay options; improving commuter lot parking, downtown business parking and residential parking through review and enhancement of the permit parking programs. In addition, the Parking Enforcement Unit has revised the parking enforcement section of the Chatham Borough website to keep residents, business owners and commuters apprised of the enhanced parking programs and options available to them. The Parking Enforcement Unit has improved conditions in and around the school zones, major intersections and other identified problem areas in town through routine monitoring, problem solving and enforcement action. In addition, the Parking Enforcement Unit has worked to review and revise outdated Borough Ordinances related to parking offenses in an attempt to meet the needs and demands placed on the Borough. The Parking Enforcement Unit will continue to be instrumental in resolving parking related issues in coordination with the Long Range Traffic and Pedestrian Safety Planning Committee.

Goal: Replace existing department .45 caliber handguns

Achievement: During 2014, the Chatham Borough Police Department successfully transitioned from their aging and fatigued Smith and Wesson model 4566 and 4513 (.45) caliber handguns to a newer enhanced model. The police department researched various make and model handguns and then selected the Smith and Wesson model M&P (.45) caliber. Utilizing the trade in value of our older model weapons in inventory, the department was able to equip all members with the new handguns and all necessary holsters and equipment for $725.00. Once the new handguns were received by the department, all members were issued the new equipment and trained in accordance with the New Jersey Attorney General Guidelines, Morris County Prosecutors Directives and the Chatham Borough Police Departments Policy and Procedure. The handguns are currently in-service department wide.

The noted reduction of 31.8% in calls for service during 2014 is a combined result of transitioning to a new records management system provided through the Morris County Communications Center along with a change in call for service tracking. With our new system, we are no longer tracking individually initiated officer actions in the records management system. Those actions are now tracked through a daily patrol log thus the actual calls for service now more accurately reflect actual calls into the police department from citizens.

Part I offenses that have not been determined to be false or unfounded are forwarded to the F.B.I. for computation in the community's crime rate. These offenses are used to determine a community’s crime rate based upon the number of crimes reported per 1,000 residents. There was a 4.0% increase in the actual Part I offenses in 2014.
SECTION EIGHT

TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT ANALYSIS
Traffic enforcement is the most recognizable and universal police function. Marked police cars are easy to see and many drivers have been stopped for a traffic violation. Because of the punitive consequences attached to traffic enforcement, many do not have an appreciation for the positive benefits. Additionally, “myths” can result from misconceptions about the goals and motivations of traffic enforcement.

When you see a car pulled over, remember that the law enforcement officer may be doing more than writing a traffic citation. The officer may be apprehending a wanted person, or removing weapons and drugs from your community. Traffic enforcement can, and does, contribute to the quality of life in your community. Communities realize the benefits of traffic enforcement and highway safety efforts: roads and neighborhoods will be safer and police agencies will have more time to effectively police their communities. The Chatham Borough Police Department continues to increase traffic enforcement efforts to ensure public safety.

Internal Affairs Investigation Disposition Definitions

Exonerated
The alleged incident did occur, but the actions of the employee were justified, lawful and proper. The employee's behavior was consistent with agency policy, but there was a policy failure.

Substantiated
The investigation disclosed sufficient evidence to clearly prove the allegation.

Not Sustained
The investigation failed to disclose sufficient evidence to clearly prove or disprove the allegation.

Unfounded
The investigation indicated that the acts complained of did not occur; or there is insufficient information to conduct a meaningful investigation.

Administratively Closed
In times of adversity and change, we really discover who we are and what we are made of. In 2014, policing in general faced many challenges and even endured public scrutiny nationwide. Challenges, adversity and public scrutiny often times make it difficult for police officers to maintain faith in their chosen profession and to sustain focus on the vision of protection and service that they have for the communities that they choose to serve.

Through it all, it is that very adversity and change that forces us out of our comfort zone and helps us to face the realities of our chosen profession. It helps us realize that there will always be room for growth and that you can’t stand in one place forever because the world will change around you and you can either embrace it and grow, or you can resist it and you will be left behind.

In Chatham Borough, we are blessed to have a great community made up of dedicated residents, business owners, families, friends, volunteers, elected officials and committed employees. This dedication is observed at all levels on a daily basis. However, in all of my years of service, I have never observed greater dedication in Chatham Borough than when we are faced with adversity and change.

Unfortunately, the Police Department, which operates without fail around the clock, is often faced with adversity and change in a moment’s notice, and often without warning. This was no more evident than on April 9, 2014, when Chatham Police Officers Jeffrey Battiloro and Matthew Belcastro went from answering a suspected fraud investigation call at the HSBC bank on Main St. to fighting for their very lives. This happened in a split second when the criminal suspect chose to disregard the officer’s commands and began assaulting them in a feverish attempt to flee from the scene and elude capture. During the very physical altercation that followed, a dedicated Chatham Borough resident and retired New York City Police Officer Brian Hart happened by and immediately and selflessly assisted the officers in apprehending this violent criminal. Whereby, they removed the suspect from the tranquil neighborhood that he had fled to and restored safety and security back to the community.

In all, the suspect was captured but not prior to the officers sustaining substantial injuries that would result in months of lost time from the job. Two police officers and one dedicated resident, who himself was a retired police officer, all faced adversity and change on that very day. And in the end, we really discovered who they were and what they were made of. Sooner or later, we all face adversity and we all face change, albeit not to a level that makes national news, but none the less, we are a profession, a department and a community that faces the challenges, faces the scrutiny that follows yet we maintain our focus on the vision of protection and service to the community that we choose to serve – Chatham Borough.

It is with great pride that we look forward to working together for an even better Chatham Borough in 2015. Remember, whether you live, work or visit Chatham Borough, cooperatively, we can continue to enhance the quality of life in Chatham Borough for everyone. We can face challenges, we can face adversity and we will prevail and come out better for it.
Philip J. Crosson, Jr.
Chief of Police
